2023 BRIDGE PROJECTS

Final Posters

Bridge Program: Marketing Strategy

Team Members: Ramya Parameswaran Rungta, Woohyuk Choi, Feng Chi Liu & Sarthak Gupta

Executive Coach: Allison Duncan

Project Challenge:

❖ Client - Focused

- Organization lacked a well-defined marketing strategy.
- Social media pages needed to be updated and analyzed for strategic user acquisition.
- A new branding and publication strategy needed to be developed for future marketing projects.
- Thoughtfully crafted content strategy and a cost-effective content management system needed to be implemented to effectively monitor all content marketing efforts.

❖ Internal Team – Focused

- Initial lack of clarity on Deliverables -> resolved through client meetings
- Occasional issues in team coordination -> resolved through strong communication leadership
- One-time internal conflict that was later resolved by the team.
- Skill gaps resolved by individual and team efforts.

Project Outcome/Recommendation:

- Developed a marketing roadmap for PRISM starting out with a social media communication strategy, content calendar template and brand identity guidebook.
- Generated an insightful social media analysis report, recommending the implementation of a monthly social media analytics review for PRISM to devise relevant audience-centric strategies.
- Suggested more budget-friendly and user-friendly options for content management system platforms.
- Highlighted the significance of incorporating marketing templates as an invaluable tool for documenting all marketing processes during an ongoing campaign

SPARK

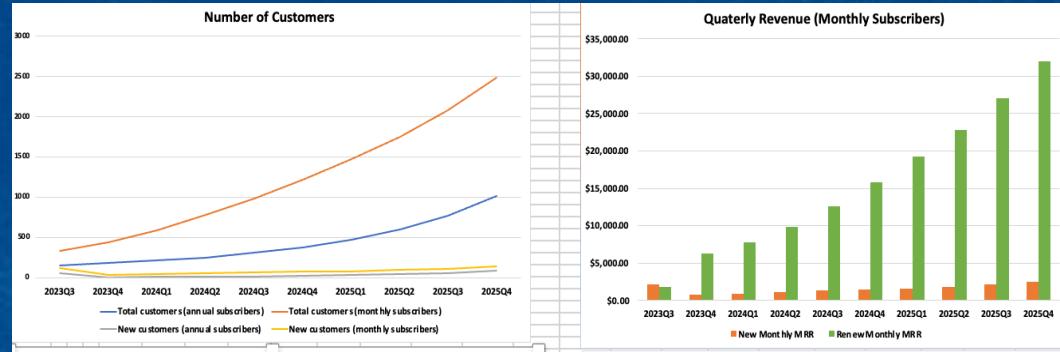

Bridge Program: Financial Modeling

Team : Mohit Dewan, Li Tianze, Wei Ru Yang, Wu Yuhang

Executive Coach : Ankur Goel

Project Challenge:

- ❑ Dynamic Financial Environment: Navigating the volatile financial landscape of a SaaS social impact startup.
- ❑ Balancing Stakeholder Interests: Harmonizing the diverse financial interests of seed investors and affiliate partners.

Action Plan:

- ❑ Delve deep into Meerkat's past and present financial data.
- ❑ Engage regularly with Meerkat for real-time feedback.
- ❑ Model diverse market scenarios to predict future trajectories.
- ❑ Evaluate potential affiliate partners and forecast mutual benefits.

Project Outcome:

- ❑ A customized 3-year pro forma financial projection highlighting Meerkat Village's potential.
- ❑ A detailed framework aimed to assure seed round investors of Meerkat's financial viability.
- ❑ A revenue-sharing structure designed to boost B2C sales and benefit both Meerkat Village and affiliate partners.

Bridge Program: CRM to Support Volunteer Network

Team: Divya Singh, Rashi Rathore, Kaushik Madgula, Ruyu Yan

Executive Coach: Theresa Gallick

What is the problem?

Bona Fide Bellevue faced challenges due to multiple software solutions, hindering volunteer, donor, and community management activities. They required an integrated CRM to streamline process.

Action Plan

- Identifying client requirement
- Conducting market research and competitive analysis
- Selecting CRM vendors based on the requirements
- CRM initial screening and demo
- Negotiation and final recommendation

How do we know this is a problem?

Different Softwares/Tools used:

- WordPress Website
- Gmail/Google Drive
- Mailchimp
- Jotform
- Qgive
- Spreadsheets and Email

Analysis

- Social media integration will boost donations by 10%/year
- Estimated time savings will be 30%
- 75% time reduction in database management

Scope of project

Recommend and implement a user-friendly CRM for Bona Fide Bellevue, enabling effective engagement with volunteers, donors, and the community within $3k/year budget.

Project Outcome

- Comparative study of two best CRMs
- Detailed analysis of final CRM recommendation
- Full list of custom fields to incorporate in final CRM system

Application Process

- Resume is required and thoughtful reply to a few short answer questions
- Avoid AI generated responses only
- Tailor answers that relate to your own experience
